Fired Up! nominated at the 2023 BIG Festival

After participating in BostonFIG Festival, Fired Up!, a game developed by 7 first-year students from the JMIN Master's degree programme (Cohort 2021-23), is among the 12 games nominated at BIG Festival in the "Best Student Game" category.

Christopher, Keltoum, Maxime and Théophile made the trip to São Paulo (Brazil), from 28th June to 2nd July, to present their game and try to bring home the prize!

Fired Up!, created by 7 students from the Master's degree in Video Games and Digital Interactive Media (JMIN) programme (Cohort 18 / 2021-23) during the first year of the course, is a 4-player cooperative game where you must avoid the worst scenario by putting out an ever-growing fire.

Well done to the team behind Fired Up! for their nomination and to the team behind Animal Planner (Aalto University, China) who won the "Best Student Game" Prize.
